Ney

My official name is Rosiney Lima Maia, but all my friends call me Ney. I was raised inside the jungle in a small village where I learned how to hike, fish, hunt and camp in the Amazon rainforest.

I started working as a jungle guide to show tourists the way into the jungle in 2000. During the time, I learned English, so I can tell you all the jungle stories of the Amazon. My specialty is the Northern part of Manaus, because that is where I know my way around best.

Information

How does it work?

The approach is simple: you go together with a survival expert into the Amazon rainforest and do what is necessary to survive and thrive in the jungle. Typical activities of a survival tour include navigation through the rainforest, making a fire, kayak, hunting and gathering food. You can choose to stay on a single spot or trek through the forest during your survival trip.

How long should I go?

To really immerse yourself in the jungle takes a while, so you should plan to go at least 3 days and 2 nights. There is no upper limit to the number of days you can go. However most survivors don't go longer than a week.

Information

What to bring?

We take care of the necessary equipment, including hammocks a machette and a first aid kit. You should bring light gear that you can easiliy carry and clothes that dry quickly and offer proper protection when going through rough terrain. If you have some handy survival tools that you are allowed to bring on a plane, just take them with you.

Area

The survival tour takes place in the Rio Urubu area. This river is a tributary to the Amazon and it is surrounded by dense forest with only a few inhabitants. The area is located about 200 kilometer from Manaus.

You will travel by bus and boat to the jungle lodge Rio Urubu that we have in that area. This is the starting point for your survival tour. If you have a preference for a different region or you would like to encounter certain types of animals, please let us know. We will see if another area is better suited for what you have in mind.

Activities

The activities of a survival tour include navigating your way through the jungle, making fire, kayak, hunting and gathering food

Fish For Food

Fishing is a relative easy way to get food as the Amazon has an amazing variety of fish. You will learn different fishing styles, such as fishing with a net, spearfishing in the night and fishing piranhas with a rod and bait.

Make a fire

Fire making is an essential survival skill and not the easiest one. You will learn how to gather the right wood and material for your fire and how to ignite it (the hard part).

Activities

Hunt with a blowpipe

Indigenous tribes traditionally use this technique to hunt for small animals. You learn how to make your own blowpipe and use it.

Navigate the rainforest

The jungle is dense at a lot of places, which makes navigating a difficult task. Our survival experts will teach you some clever tricks, so you can find your way out of the jungle and don't keep walking around in circles.

Activities

Create a shelter

Heavy rains can make you completely wet in minutes and causes you body temperature to drop significantly. This is one of the reasons why preparing a solid shelter is a good idea. You will build your own shelter from local materials together with our survival expert, so you keep dry and save from the animals.

Enjoy nature

Regardless of how tough a survival tour can be, never forget to enjoy the beautiful nature along the way!
